Caleta Buena

It is a tourist facility located 8 km from Playa Girón that arises from the beauty of various associated natural resources: the cove, fauna and flora.

Inside this cove there is a natural pool of very transparent waters where you can see fish of different colors and sizes. It is also part of the Cienaga de Zapata caving system, which is considered the most extensive and conserved in the Insular Caribbean.

It is located in a secluded environment which allows customers to enjoy the tranquility of the place, as well as a team of qualified workers to perform on the job, based on the professional competencies of the position and also, it is in that place the El Pirata International Diving Center.
